

11th Annual Kentucky Statewide EPSCoR Conference

Exploring Emerging R&D Frontiers

Friday, May 13, 2005, Louisville Downtown Marriott Hotel

280 West Jefferson Street
Louisville, Kentucky 40202
(502) 627-5045

- |                                 |  |
|---------------------------------|--|
| 8:00 to 8:45                    | Registration, Poster Set-up, and Continental Breakfast   |
| 8:45 to 8:50                    | Welcoming Remarks – Wimberly Royster   |
| 8:50 to 9:30                    | Warren DeVries, DMII Division Director, NSF“NSF’s Plans and Priorities for Enabling the Nation’s Future”  |
| 9:30 to 10:10                   | Frank Piller, Massachusetts Institute of Technology–Technical Innovation Entrepreneurship Group, and the Technical University of Munchen, Munich, Germany“Mass Customization – New Directions for Research” |
| 10:10 to 10:30                  | Break  |
| 10:30 to 11:10                  | Christian Cupp, DEPSCoR Program Manager, and Project Officer in International Technology Programs“DOD’s View of Emerging R&amp;D Frontiers”   |
| 11:10 to 11:50                  | Patti Glaza, Chief Executive Officer, Small Times Media, LLC“Overview of Emerging Micro and Nanotechnology Frontiers”   |
| 11:50 to 12:15                  | John Randall, Chief Technology Officer, Zyvex Corporation“Joint Research Explorations – the Role of Academic and Corporate Collaborations in the Micro and Nanotechnology Worlds”                           |
| 12:15                           | Lunch and KY EPSCoR Update SpeakersMEMS Award – Kevin WalshKY NSF EPSCoR Award – John Connolly   |
| 1:30 to 3:00                    | Poster Session   |
| EPSCoR Agency Breakout Sessions |  |
| 2:30PM-5:00PM                   | KY NSF EPSCoR – John Connolly  |
| 2:00PM-4:30PM                   | KY NASA EPSCoR – Richard Hackney   |